About Emily

Emily has a passion for flowers + shares that love with everyone she meets! A decade ago she left the big city and moved next door to her husband's childhood home in Fortville. Previously owned by an award-winning master gardener, her flower farming dreams slowly started to evolve. Not your traditional flower farm, Emily's Backyard Blooms consists of 4 different backyard locations including a sunflower patch in Eden and an Indiana native pollinator field.

We can't wait to work with you this growing season!

Let us bring your floral dreams to life!
